Dear Class of 2018,

Hey, y'all! It's Marilyn with your biggest morning announcement yet: "Graduation is here!" We have come a long way since freshman year. We have completed four years of starting our days off at six o'clock in the morning, cramming in homework, relationships, lunch during the day, and staying busy with extracurricular activities, sport practices, and play rehearsals that would keep us up late in the night. Here's to us for making it through four years of high school and continuing on to our next chapter. In this yearbook, we wanted to cherish the moments of spending time with the fam and squad. We also would like to acknowledge and honor two wonderful staff members who passed away: a teacher who brought enjoyment to learning, Mr. Bixler, as well as a member of our cafeteria staff who made connections to staff and students, Ms. Williams.

As your yearbook editor-in-chief, I want to thank Io, Julieta, Maggie, Fritz, Nafis, Sakib, Lucy, Jake, Paloma, Aya, and Eva. As a group, we have come and gone, but we were able to stick together and complete a wonderful yearbook. I want to thank the teachers and staff who supported us and made our four-year experience one crazy thrill ride. I also wanted to thank Mr. Marden and Ms. Lopata for their guidance as yearbook advisers. I also want to give a special shout-out to Mr. Tynes and Principal Smith for bringing energy and charisma every day.

To all the seniors in this yearbook, embrace the memories that you made this year and each moment to come in the future. Remember the bond of new and old friendships. Remember to be true to yourselves, and live life the way you imagine. Remember that you'll never lose; you only win or learn in life. Even though this is where we say goodbye, it's also where we start to explore the life that will be waiting ahead. I can't wait to see you at our high school reunion. :)

From your editor-in-chief,
Marilyn Attles

Dear Class of 2018,

Congratulations! We made it through high school. Though it feels like these past four years flew by, as many of you may agree, they were not always easy. We will never forget the first few weeks of freshman year, feeling nervous being in what seemed like such a big school, trying to make friends, gathering in huge clumps outside of the main entrance, and walking in packs to different social events.

A moment early in our shared experience at CRLS has stood out in my mind as representing our class: seeing so many members of the Class of 2018 walked out as freshmen for the Black Lives Matter movement in the fall of 2014. During our time at CRLS, we continued to walk out every single year to stand in solidarity with movements that we were passionate about: protesting sexual harassment, advocating for women's rights, and denouncing gun violence. These movements were not limited to the single days we protested together; we channeled our hunger for change within our own school. We opened up a dialogue transforming the representation of our student body in the theatre department, and we fostered powerful conversations about race and equality with the advent of the Black Student Union.

Not only were we successful in starting conversations about injustice, but we were also a class that dominated sports fields and led teams to victory. This is evidenced in our class making contributions to our back-to-back state championship boys basketball team, the first group of four-year fencers, and the girls volleyball team, which made it to semi-finals this year. We were the class who birthed the Frisbee Club and added new life to the K-Pop Club. We sent the World Jazz Ensemble to Panama, wrote a play and brought it to the state finals for the festival competition, and promoted fairness through subsidized tickets for senior our prom.

We are a loud, opinionated, strong-willed, persistent, responsible, smart, and crazy group of students. These remarkable traits may not always shine through in the best ways (like in our Class of 2018 Facebook page), but in the long run, they make us a force of nature. I hope we run into each other in the coming years. I am so excited to see what the Class of 2018 accomplishes in the coming years.

Once again, congratulations.

Sincerely,
Sophie Harrington, student body president

Dear Class of 2018,

The saying, "Time flies when you're having fun," is quite the understatement of our four years together. For many of us, it feels as though the bonds we have made with our friends since freshman year were only made yesterday. In a large, diverse school like ours, finding our niche meant meeting not only new people, but people from many different backgrounds, pools of talent, academic aspirations, and people with inspiring hopes and dreams for both the present and the future. Attending Cambridge Rindge and Latin has given us the blessing of knowing each other, while also providing us with the tools to succeed in our personal and professional lives. Looking back, it is important to note that each of us has experienced this unique journey through a myriad of opportunities and invaluable relationships. There is no doubt in my mind that the opportunities presented to us by the Cambridge Public School District are incomparable to any other district. While all the hard work and good times came as a result of the beautiful people within this class, none of it would have been nearly as successful or enjoyable without the work of the administration, faculty, and community members. We were given everything, and provided with the opportunity to build meaningful relationships that will be easily comparable to the ones we develop in college and the future. The purpose of this book is to remember all the little things about the place that has shaped the different parts of your character, whether you realize it now or not. Wherever life may take us, we will always be Cambridge made, and you will carry the Cambridge name with you wherever you go.

Thank you, Cambridge,
Leonardo Escobar, senior class president

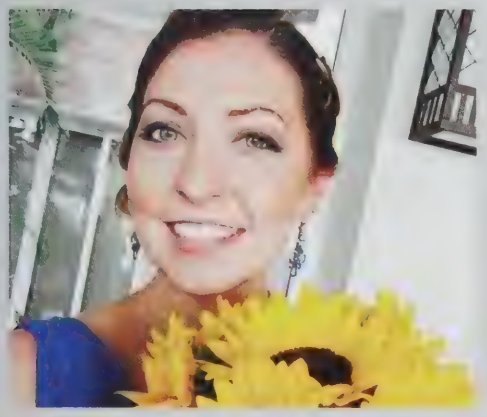
In Memoriam

Sam Bixler

Mr. Bixler joined the CRLS community this school year, and he had a significant impact on students and staff. In just his first year at CRLS, he worked hard to enhance student understanding of world issues and governmental systems in his AP Comparative Government classes. As a member of the Level Up Team focusing on developing Honors World History 2 for all students, he demonstrated a strong commitment to expanding equity and opportunity in our school community. He was thoughtful, energetic, and he easily connected with students and staff. He will be sorely missed.

Karen Williams



Karen, a CRLS graduate, joined our staff last year, and she quickly endeared herself to students, staff, and colleagues in the Main and Media Cafeterias. No matter how busy it was at lunch, she always made time to help an individual student or colleague. She helped to make the cafeterias an inviting and fun place for all. We will most remember her warm smile. She will be dearly missed.

CONGRATULATIONS, YOU DID IT!

For Nia Iarrobino, Class of 2018
We are very proud of you and love you.

Mom and Dad

Nolen,

I just want to say that I am so very proud of you! Congratulations on reaching the first of many milestones of your life. Most importantly, I want you to know that you are such a sweet, smart and handsome young man- so happy that God saw to it that you were given to me. I wish you success in all that you do and I know that whatever you choose to do, you will make an impact for the greater good. Nolen, the world is waiting on you and greatly needs what you have to offer....

Also, know that I will ALWAYS have your back.

Love You,
Mommie (Courvoisier and Kylen too)

Congratulations, Jack!
You're off the leash.

Wishing you all journeys filled with happiness and meaning.

Congratulations!!

From the first day of school to the last, we're so proud of you!

Congratulations Sasha & The CRLS Class of 2018

Love, Mama, Papa & Zoe

snuffle

Congratulations and best wishes to the Class of 2018!

and to Adam Bourgoin-Stone!

Be an Abraham, a Man of Faith, be a David, a Man After God's Own Heart, and you shall experience all the promises of God for your life. God's getting ready to do what no one ever saw or heard, what no one ever thought could happen. May the joy of the Lord be your strength as you embark on this new journey. You are absolutely the best gift from Heaven, and indeed, I am a proud mother. Spread your wings, and fly like an eagle.

I love you!
~Mom~

Grandma is so proud of you, and my love for you is everlasting. May God order your path as you enter new seasons of your life.
Love,
Grandma/Godmother

Congratulations, Graduate,
As you embark on this new journey, wishing you all the success and happiness that life has to offer. Never forget that you have the best supporters by your side. May God's Grace be with you as you step ahead towards accomplishing your dreams. Keep walking by Faith, for God has great plans for you. I am so proud of the man you've become and will continue to be. Always remember: Education is the most powerful weapon; therefore, no one can ever take that away from you. I am happy to share this incredible milestone in your life.

Love,
Patricia

I've watched you grow from a baby to an intelligent young man. Know the journey of life comes with trials, but God would never put you in a situation without a solution. Focus on your dreams; God will make all come true. I am proud to call you my nephew.

-Big Uncle Johnson

My dearest nephew, I am confident that you will accomplish all your future goals. I am excited to be part of this journey with you. Remember, stay true to yourself, and as one chapter ends, the other begins.

Proud of you,
Uncle Steven

Congratulations to my Future Million! May the Lord bless you greatly and guide you through your journey on your way to being a millionaire.

Love,
Uncle Junior
P.S. Waiting on my first million!

Your trials are your testimonies, and don't allow distractions to delay your blessings. I am proud of you, nephew.

Auntie,
Joshuanna

Congrats, hope you keep up the good work. Never give up.

Love you,
Uncle Darnel

You can do all things, nephew. So proud of you.

-Uncle Stefan

Never give up on your dreams. Proud of you!

Love,
Granpa

The Best Is Yet To Come!!!

Congratulations to all the Seniors on the CRLS Golf Team for their achievements as athletes and scholars!

A huge thank-you to Coach Pag for four years of leadership and encouragement!

Congratulations to the RSTA Computer Science graduates!

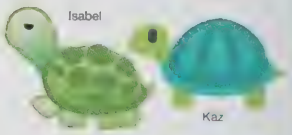
Thank you to Ms. Atwood & Dr. Wu for teaching, caring, and laughing with us—we had a great four years!

It's time to grow your dreams!
Congrats!

Congrats, Julia (NC)

(in the field in Minnesota)

We're behind you all the way!



We are so proud of you, Pascal!

Congratulations. And we wish you lots of good luck on your next adventures.
